Galveston was able to bring this competition back to Galveston from NRG convention center by offering funding to offset some hard costs. For 2012-2105 we gave them $20,580.00 to offset costs and they requested an increase in 2012 for the next two years at $25,160.00 Staff Recommendation: This event has been a great fit for Galveston in early January. This last year we were able to confirm 1906 TRN as they have had their housing company work closely with us. We know that there are many more rooms consumed during this event as it draws 6,000 to 10,000 people. For 2021-2025, after discussion with Moody Gardens, the request is for $20,000.00, $14,000.00 for convention center rental and $6,000.00 bleacher removal. They are requesting contracts with Moody Gardens for 2021-2025 based on receiving this funding. The dates are: 1-14/17-21, 1-13/16-22, 1-12/15-23, 1-11/14-24 and 1-16/19-25. Staff recommends we continue to fund this event at $20,000.00 per year due to the time frame the competition is held and the compression it creates for the Island.

EELAC

Overview: Over the last year EELAC has had multiple conversations about the viability of the East End Lagoon (EEL), revenue streams, operational costs and maintenance expenses. To date the Park Board and EELAC have been operating and making decisions for the EEL based on the master plan done in 2010 by AECOM. This master plan is a very valuable document and was developed with a great deal of public support and input. This plan in its entirety should not be overlooked, but sections of the business aspect of the document need to be reviewed based on current day values and data. Through conversations with City Council, IDC, City Staff and EELAC, during the last budget process, it was recommended that this topic be researched more thoroughly culminating in a more current business plan for the EEL. This plan should review and reduce physical construction based on site constraints and maintenance costs, review and vet construction costs, evaluate and project revenue streams based on appropriate activities on site and look for alternate funding streams for the area. Some of this information will come out of dialogue and engagement with organizations and individuals that were not part of the process in 2010. The schedule for this work should run from December to May, culminating in a five year, minimum, phased approach business plan. This proposal was reviewed and a motion to send it to the Trustees was made at the EELAC meeting on November 1, 2017. The motion was unanimous with revisions per staff that have been addressed in the attached proposal. Staff Recommendation: Per EELAC recommendation, staff recommends executing the Proposal for a Business Plan for the East End Lagoon with Rathburn Planning & Consulting. Funding Source (if a budgetary item): FY 2017-2018 East End Lagoon Budget (EL-70-5204) -- $35,000
